

DANGEROUS DRINKS

You were warned, but you just had to go ahead and drink them anyway, didn't you?

The Drink	You Were Warned	Why'd You Do It?	First Impression	What Happened Next	Lesson Learned
 Rotgut Whiskey	Your dear ol' pappy done told you to stay away from fast cars, bar girls and rotgut whiskey.	The fast car/bar girl thing has been working out pretty well, so why not go for the trifecta?	So awful you had to guzzle the first half of the bottle so you'd be drunk enough to drink the second half.	Woke up with a hangover so powerful you crippled a squirrel by glaring at it.	If by lesson you mean learning you can punch a hole through a bathroom wall, then yeah, you learned a lesson.
 Bacardi 151	Isn't it what fire-eaters use to, you know, shoot fire out of their mouths?	"I'll see your pussy-ass Wild Turkey 101 and raise you 50!" was too good a line to pass up.	Really added some umph! to your rum and cola.	You were able to light cigarettes just by sucking on them.	You learned the drunk tank will issue you a pair of pants if you happen to arrive without them.
 MD 20/20 Banana Red	The liquor store clerk reminded you it's against the law to buy alcohol for minors.	Banana Red just happens to be one of your favorite flavor-colors.	The Banana totally overwhelmed the much tastier Red.	Your new drinking buddies started acting like high-school kids, then you realized they were high-school kids.	According to well-placed sources, high school still totally sucks.
 Homemade Absinthe	Isn't it that shit that made that painter dude cut off his ear and mail it to his ex-girlfriend?	Your artsy hipster friends said it'd make you trip, and do you know how hard it is to get acid these days?	Like sucking rubbing alcohol through that black liquorice candy you hated as a kid.	You tripped, all right. You tripped over all kinds of shit.	You like having both your ears more than totally freaking out your ex.
 Moonshine	Isn't it supposed to make you go blind?	Because you're a rebel. You hear me? A goddamn rebel!	Like taking a big bite out of the sun.	You can breathe fine so long as they don't unplug you.	All those porn movies featuring horny nurses are total bullshit.
 Your Buddy's Home Brew	He told you it was the best beer every made by man, but he also told you his cat is psychic.	All his incessant pouting. And hey, free beer, right?	You never would have believed so much horror could fit in a 12 ounce bottle.	A truly psychic cat would have gotten out of the way of your vomit stream.	You will no longer drink a beer that doesn't have a commercial in the Super Bowl.
